

WOODSON UNIVERSITY

Press Release

August 16, 2011

Contact: Woodson University
Office of University Relations
(704) 762-1394
info@woodsonu.us

Woodson University Partners with Private Sector Credential Provider

(Concord, NC) Woodson University has announced its new partnership with Connexions, Inc., Alliant Personnel Solutions Inc. (APSI) & Mike Minter Work Development Program to offer a Customer Service Sales Specialist Certificate at the University.

Woodson University, located in Cabarrus County and Charlotte-based APSI, an expert in vocational training and consulting services will offer the certification; providing continuing education to career seekers preparing to enter a rapidly growing job market. Connexions will receive prospective candidates for employment from the Woodson/Minter program.

“The Connexions team is really looking forward to this collaboration with Woodson University, APSI and the Mike Minter Work Development Program. We are hiring over 1,200 people NOW in the North Carolina area for our Concord and our new South Charlotte solution centers – so we truly appreciate the support we’re receiving through this partnership to get the word out to job seekers about our great health careers.” said Todd Baxter, executive vice president of Connexions, Inc.

This collaboration allows our work development program the ability to introduce work ready training courses to adults throughout our region, said, program founder Mike Minter.

Residents of Cabarrus/Mecklenburg County and surrounding markets seeking high-demand occupational training can now take these courses at Woodson University. “We are positively excited to partner with Connexions, the Mike Minter Work Development Program, and APSI to deliver the highest quality training and education in these hardest of economic times. This partnership delivers job-ready knowledge, skills and abilities to individuals seeking to improve their lives and the communities in which they live”, said university president, A.L. Fleming

“APSI is extremely excited about the partnership with Woodson University and Connexions, and the Mike Minter Work Development Program. Our programs have been instrumental in assisting candidates become certified and placed in high demand jobs. This academic partnership will extend our efforts in helping unemployed, veterans and dislocated workers throughout the U.S.,” said APSI chief executive officer, Scott Coulter

For more information call Woodson University at 704-762-1394

For more information about APSI call 704-944-3528 or visit www.apsicorp.com

For more information about Connexions call 877-772-6868 or visit www.connexions.com